

Health is not just a personal issue

Our health is affected every day by our communities. Building Communities for Better Health (BCBH) is committed to improving people, places, and organizations that touch each of our lives everyday to foster healthier living.

BCBH is working with 17 communities across the state to help improve lives by developing chronic disease prevention plans, developing interventions, and sustaining their efforts through expanding their existing partnerships.

Learn more about the Building Communities for Better Health Program by contacting the Department of Health and Senior Services or one of the participating county health departments listed on the back of this sheet!

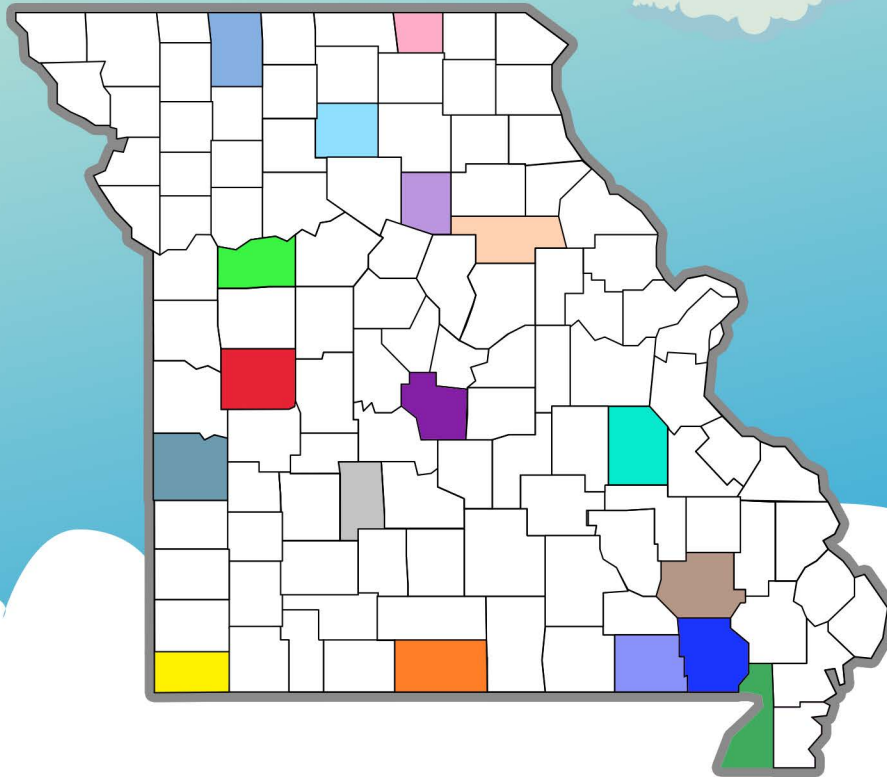

Reduce Risk

Long-term illness is terrible, costly, and can be prevented by:

- Avoiding Tobacco Use and Exposure to Secondhand Smoke
- Being Physically Active
- Eating Healthy
